

MAD Social Studies 10
A2: Self-Governance

Name: _____

Assignment Synopsis:

Using the Calls to Action, you are defining what it is in those calls to action that you think are most important for self-governance, and pick one to focus on. You are going to make a case for government neglect, or interference for why FN need to have governance over this piece of business.

Ideologies are defined as, ‘a system of ideas and ideals, especially one which forms the basis of economic or political theory and policy.’

What to do:

1. Write down any of the Calls to Action that you think fit into the idea of FN self-governance.
2. Pick one issue to focus on, that you think that FN could potentially take over for themselves, and whether this is true for all FN, or whether other factors can affect his decision. Pick another that you don't think would work, and come up with ten points that make the case for and against self-government for FN on those issues.
3. Write a speech that you would give in front of parliament, a full page in formal language. This will involve watching throne speeches given in Canadian parliament

Curriculum	4
Assess how underlying conditions and the actions of individuals or groups influence events, decisions, or developments, and analyze multiple consequences	You can create lists of conditions and decide how a government would respond to your conditions by choosing an ideology for that government as the one you would live with
Explain and infer different perspectives on past or present people, places, issues, or events by considering prevailing norms, values, worldviews, and beliefs	You are taking into account what is normal, what people see as a normal issue, worldviews and beliefs by choosing a government that would make everyone more satisfied
Assess the significance of people, places, events, or developments, and compare varying perspectives on their significance at particular times and places, and from group to group	You are taking into account the significance of people and how this matters over time and with different groups within a country